

IN THE CLAIMS

A mark-up version of claims will be attached after the following pages.

Rewrite Claim 15 as follows:

15. An illuminated human-machine interface device, said illuminated human-machine interface device is a keyboard, said keyboard comprises:
- an upper cover with a plurality of hole regions for keys;
- and a fluorescent plate having therein fluorescent material, wherein said fluorescent plate has thereon a plurality of hole regions in corresponding by position respectively to said hole regions for said keys, said fluorescent plate is placed on said upper cover, said fluorescent material is used to make printed symbols on said florescent plate recognizable under a weak light source.